The IH SV engines (266, 304, 345, 392) are a family of truck engines that were designed for high torque low reving engines. Heavy suckers too. A 304 is about 700 lbs. They can be made to rev higher but to what end? These engines are built to run 200+K miles easy if you take decent care of them. My 345 has about 180K on it and it is still going ...
