That's where Evolutionary Analysis by Jon C. Herron differs. It goes into plenty of detail for all of the above mentioned topics, uses quantitative explanations when necessary, and is so loaded up on applications they're practically coming out the wah-zoo, Pretty much everything I wanted from the Freeman text that I wasn't getting.

Adaptation is an observable fact of life accepted by philosophers and natural historians from ancient times, independently of their views on evolution, but their explanations differed. Empedocles did not believe that adaptation required a final cause (a purpose), but thought that it "came about naturally, since such things survived." Aristotle did believe in final causes, but assumed that ...
